John Wilson - john@cbltac.us

Title: EMPLOYEE SAFETY

Objective: This session is a fast-paced, informative mix of information that will help you stay safer in the field.

Course Description: With the help of professionals throughout California, CBLTAC combined a number of popular classes into a four-hour class full of the most important and popular topics we teach involving "tactical" safety.

"Employee Safety" covers on-the-job mindset, emergency operations plans (organizational and personal), accountability, safe actions while at the workplace or remote jobsites, operational honesty in communication, contact and cover techniques, preventing stress from the "information void", physiology of emergencies, personal protective equipment and everyday carry items, emergency location applications, natural emergency response, sheltering and lockdown procedures, and after-emergency topics (accountability, health, social media).

"Employee Safety" is not the average "safety" class. It is an interesting, exciting look at how to be proactive at ensure you and your employees make it home safer each night.
